Hosei Global

MBA

powered by Japanese knowledge and technologies

For September 2015 intake
The Hosei Business School of Innovation Management (HBS/IM) will begin offering a new Global MBA course (GMBA) in September 2015. Students enrolled in this 1.5-year course will study Japanese business practices, Japanese companies, and Japanese management styles in the English language.

Since its inception, the HBS/IM has focused on producing graduates who have a thorough understanding not only of the major companies, but also of the small and medium-sized enterprises in Japan. As part of our efforts to strengthen the GMBA a course taught in English will be added to our existing Japanese curriculum (one-year full-time MBA course and two-year MBA for working professionals).

Outline

Name: Business School of Innovation Management Global MBA Course

Degree: Master of Business Administration

Standard period for completion of study: 1.5 years (start in September, graduate in March)
Five Strengths

1. Earn your MBA in English while working Classes will be offered on week nights and Saturdays, allowing you to continue working while they complete their degrees (10 credits of coursework can be completed in Japanese).

2. Focus on Japanese business practices and management styles
   Though the curriculum of most business schools attaches importance to American or European management, Hosei GMBA emphasizes Japanese Management. We offer a curriculum that focuses on increasing your understanding of Japan and Japanese companies.

3. Mix theory with practice
   To better understand Japanese society and business practices, you are required to complete two MBA internships with either private companies or local government organizations. Internship can replace a research project at your workplace by negotiation.

4. Build strong networks with your Japanese classmates
   The Hosei GMBA emphasizes networking with your Japanese MBA classmates. Forming strong networks with your classmates will improve your global prospects. We will provide you shared-study room to help to form business networks. Learn how to break down language and social barriers that will allow you to foster connections across cultures, helping your global business ventures to thrive.

5. Outstanding graduates can avail of the school’s “incubation room” for one year for free Outstanding students wishing to set up their own companies and who can pass our rigorous screening process will have access to the school’s incubation facility for one year for free. We will provide strong support for those graduates interested in launching a business venture from Japan.
Curriculum

Design policy of the course

The course focuses on strengthening students’ understanding of Japanese management and Japanese companies, while equipping them with the basic knowledge and global expertise of a regular MBA program. You gain practical experience in a real business environment, choosing from private companies and local government organizations for their internships. Classes are offered on weeknights and Saturday afternoons, allowing you to work (in either the private or public sector) during the day while attending the course.
