

[氏名] Yuta Seki (Born in Tokyo in 1967)
[現職] Lecturer, Hosei University Business School of Innovation Management, Global MBA Program Senior Corporate Managing Director, Nomura Institute of Capital Markets Research
[学生へのメッセージ]。 In the 21st century, corporations are facing complicated issues reflecting vulnerability and uncertainty over the global economy. Some might say capitalism itself could be transformed or collapsed. However, I still believe that understanding the key concepts of corporate finance and capital markets is essential for a successful manager, because the role of managers is basically to make a series of investment decisions. Obtaining analytical skills based on financial management theories will help you to evaluate the performance and values of any investment projects, which is valuable in actual business scenes. At Hosei GMBA program, I would like to stress practical side of corporate finance and to provide opportunities for international students to understand and analyze financial management of Japanese corporations. I greatly look forward to seeing all of you at the course.
[専門分野] Global Capital Markets, Financial Institutions Management
[担当科目] Financial Management
[主な経歴] 2011-Present Managing Director, Nomura Institute of Capital Markets Research 2004-2011 Senior Analyst, New York Representative Office, Nomura Institute of Capital Markets Research 1990-2004 Research Analyst, Nomura Research Institute 1999 M.B.A. Marshall School of Business, University of Southern California 1990 Bachelor of Laws, Keio University
[主な研究業績/社会的活動] Member of International Committee, The Association for Real Estate Securitization Member of International Study Group, The Investment Trust Association, Japan
[資格・表彰] Certified Member Analyst of the Securities Analysts Association of Japan	